

Dear Students,

We are happy to invite you to the eduhub days 2012, the 4th national meeting of the Swiss eLearning Community of Universities and Institutions of Higher Education in Switzerland!

What? Participate in the Students' Panel

When? Monday, April 2, 2012, 13h30 – 14h30

Where? Centre Loewenberg in Murten

“The Smart Learner’s Voice”

We invite you to present your view during 10 minutes at the Students' Panel of the eduhub days 2012, by giving your opinion about:

How do you use technologies in your daily life? What are the discrepancies compared to the use of technologies for learning and studying at your university? What technological improvements do you suggest for the next 2-3 years? Do you have any visions of the future use of technologies at your university in the next 2, 5 or 10 years?

Come and share your ideas with us!

What is in for you?

You will be able to present your view to around 100 important players of the Swiss eLearning Community and thus make an important change on the future of learning at your university. As participant in the Students' Panel you will receive CHF 100.- in cash and a small gift from the organizer. Your travel and accomodation expenses at the Centre Loewenberg will be covered by the organizer, and you can visit the conference for free!

How can you participate?

Send us a short abstract (100 words) until February 29 by the following link:
